Thanks for the reminder. The baby has a doctor visit in the morning and I'll try to be there afterwards. The new streetcar web site looks really nice. It's very easy to navigate and provides solid, positive info.

Project is moving right along!

Thanks, everyone.

Jessica

LASI team,

This is your reminder that our board meeting is tomorrow at 10am at 850 S Broadway, PH Floor. We have a number of items that will require board approval—many of which can't wait until a future board meeting, such as funding approval for the next phase of the EIR—so I ask that everyone please try to be present. For those who can't attend in person, call-in information is below.

I've attached the agenda and minutes from the previous meeting. If you haven't had the opportunity yet, please also take a look at the updated website, www.staging.streetcar.la. After tomorrow's meeting we'll be removing the "staging" from the URL and turning the site live.

See you tomorrow!

LASI board members,

Our next board meeting is scheduled for May 18th at 10am.

By this time our preliminary engineering consultant (Hatch Mott MacDonald) will have completed 15% design, and we'll have begun to receive results from our testing of radar tomography, which is the technology we plan to utilize for utility verification. As you're all aware, utilities are a major cost driver for the project, so depending on the success of radar tomography we may want to discuss expanding its use in our contract with HMM—I'm hoping everyone can make it to the meeting to help us make that decision. We will also be approaching the final deadline for Metro's Measure R2 expenditure plan, so there will likely be action items for the board on that matter.

Looking forward to seeing everyone in May,

Shane
